Narrator: Do you ever feel lonely? Here's Gregg Harris with today's Discover God.

Gregg: So many people today suffer from a sense of loneliness and abandonment, but as a child of God, you are never alone. God is present with you always, and this means that at any and every moment, you have access to the fullness of God, His character, His power, and His love. But perhaps you're like me and you understand this intellectually, but you have trouble living it as a reality in your day-to-day life.

Well, being a father has helped me better grasp the reality of God constant, watchful care. Just a few weeks ago, my daughter Rachel turned fifteen years old. To celebrate her birthday, she and her best friend flew to Jackson Hole, Wyoming, to stay with friends, ride horses, and enjoy the spectacular landscape. This was the first time my daughter had ever flown alone, and as her father, I was vigilant about her well-being that day. We got up early and took her to the airport, I sat with her until it was time to board, and then I told her, make sure you call me on your cell phone as soon as you land in your connecting airport. And I called her right before she had to get on her connecting flight, to make sure she was safely on board. Basically, all day long I was thinking about her, calling her, making sure she was okay. And I didn't let me vigilance down until I knew for sure she had safely arrived at her final destination.

And I remember thinking during that day, this is a picture of how God treats me every single day. You see, God watches over you with an infinite amount of care each day. And this is true whether or not you acknowledge it. But when you do meditate on it, and live in the awareness of this reality, it can make a tremendous difference in your daily experience.

Narrator: God is watching you, and you're never alone. Find out more today about our ever-present God when you log on to DiscoverGod.com. DiscoverGod.com. Because your view of God does matter.
