PRAYER TARGET

September 2020

“Therefore let everyone who is godly pray to you while you may be found; surely when the mighty waters rise, they will not reach him. You are my hiding place...” (Psalm 32:6-7a).

PRAYER TARGET

“Therefore let everyone who is godly pray to you while you may be found; surely when the mighty waters rise, they will not reach him. You are my hiding place...”

(Psalm 32:6-7a).

In times of great trouble, we long for refuge. In the face of increasing chaos and turmoil, we long for a hiding place. What a great comfort to know that God is always with us, providing a refuge. He is our hiding place.

Woven throughout Scripture are God’s expressions of His great love for all people, especially the supreme expression of His love, Christ’s death on the cross. God longs for relationship with us, promising to be our refuge when the mighty waters of turmoil rise around us.

Our experiences of God as our hiding place inspire us to tell others of His overwhelming love for them and the refuge He provides...truly Good News in these troubled times. As we pray during this season of COVID-19 and unrest, we ask the Lord to provide even greater opportunities to communicate His message of love and hope.

Thank you for your ongoing prayers for FEBC and for partnering with us to share the message of salvation to our listeners around the world.

Until all have heard,

Edward W. Cannon
President and CEO

Thursday, September 3 – Please pray for Jesus to be a source of hope despite unemployment, loss of family members and an unknown future as a result of the pandemic. Japan, especially, is known for having one of the highest suicide rates in the world. Wednesday, September 9 – Thank the Lord for FEBC’s opportunities to broadcast on shortwave radio. In countries where hostile governments control local radio and television, shortwave broadcasts can penetrate political and religious barriers to reach people with the Good News, because our broadcasts originate outside the country’s sphere of influence.

Thursday, September 10 – In Thailand, FEBC offers a Bible correspondence course to local listeners. A woman shared this testimony, *“My life has been better daily. This ensures that rural listeners have access to God’s Word. Please pray that the Good News will penetrate the hearts of many.
